

One-Way to Two-Way Conversions

When considering a one-way to two-way conversion in a downtown setting there are potential benefits and trade-offs to consider. General benefits and trade-offs of conversion include:

Potential Benefits

- More direct routes to some locations, decreasing distances motorists have to travel
- Easier navigation for visitors or people unfamiliar with the area

Potential Trade-offs

- Increases traffic congestion and slower speeds in some areas due to fewer lanes in one direction
- On-street parking may be removed in some areas to add turn lanes at intersections