

State Highway System

State Highways are the backbone of the roadway system through the valley.

- Lack of improvements on the State Highway system sends traffic to the local system - which can lead to significant delays and congestion.
- Without improvements to the State system, major widening of the ACHD system would be needed or development would not be approved until improvements are made.

